ABCs of Attraction Certified Coach

Being a pick-up artist isn't a title given to casual seducers. Becoming a successful pick-up artist is a lifestyle. - Andrew

Andrew, also known as Showtime, is known in the pick-up artist community as the "Captain of Fun." Given an audience and a venue, he transforms into a pick-up artist powerhouse, with an extraordinary ability to seduce women. His natural high energy excites women and puts them at ease, allowing him to effortlessly and masterfully implement the ABCs of Attraction.

Andrew first began his journey in the game at the tender age of six years old when his Filipino grandfather regaled him with stories about meeting, seducing and falling in love with beautiful women around the globe during "the good old days." From then on, his passion for the game was sparked, leading him to chase after women at a very early age.

Fortunate to be surrounded by natural talent, Andrew had an early advantage and easily elevated his game to a respectable level. However, it wasn't until he was catapulted into the world of seduction with the ABCs of Attraction as a Certified Coach in 2007 that he learned how to effectively and consistently attract women.

As a coach, Andrew is an expert at transforming shy and reserved students by teaching them to project their personalities. He possesses a number of skills that make him an effective coach and pick-up artist. First, he never backs down from a challenge, and always seizes opportunities to improve himself in all aspects of life. Secondly, he is skilled at networking and creating social circles full of hot women. Last, but not least, he has the tremendous ability to build rapport and read the personality of every individual around him, allowing him to quickly and easily create friends and build his social circle.

Andrew has traveled alongside the Asian Playboy and taught at boot camps throughout California. When he is not teaching, Andrew stays busy by always keeping the party alive as a club promoter and VJ at a Los Angeles area station. He is also an up-and-coming stand-up comedian, determined to dominate the mainstream comedy circuit.

Above all, Andrew is a living example that even little Asian guys can get major results with the ABCs.
